

The sun's rays reflect on the bright translucent water. The flowers are white, pink and pink and playfully rest against the sleepy, green and colorful leaves. It is so soothing to look at them and watch the gurgling water. Sandra is passionate about capturing light on water in any form with brush, fingers and palette knife. The viewer of her paintings can feel peace and relaxation, let go and dream while looking at them. The pages are also painted. The picture can be hung directly even without a frame.
