

Heinz Stoewer: Picture "cacti under a blue sky" (2024)

€1,900.00

The picture shows several cacti in different shades of color, which are typical of the Californian desert. They are arranged in the foreground in such a way that they appear like sculptures. The sunlight falling on the cacti from the left creates an interesting play of colors. This is further enhanced by the few pink to reddish colored buds. A desert landscape under a blue sky can be seen in the background. The painting perfectly captures the mood of the desert with its clear light. The work is signed and dated on the reverse.
