

Sabrina Seck: Picture "Hydra" (2023)

The multi-headed Hydra is a mythical creature from Greek mythology. But isn't there also a Hydra in us? One part compassionate, the other self-confident and the third a completely different personality? We humans can be different, even a complete contradiction in terms. We can pretend, adapt to the opposite and in the next moment we are ourselves again. Man is so multifaceted, so complex and sometimes inscrutable and mysterious.
