

José Bifano: Picture "Free Strokes" (2023)

€600.00

Free Strokes is a black and white image with high contrast and seemingly photographic resolution. The composition is made up of disorderly strokes that create a unique and evocative atmosphere. Although the strokes are irregular and seemingly chaotic, they harmoniously come together to form an organic structure. The organic structure evokes a world of its own and suggests a unique reality that invites the viewer to explore and discover the hidden details within the force of the strokes. This makes the image fascinating to observe up close and explore the depths of its composition. The artwork was created using my own technique, which uses toilet paper as a support. In its creation, I used acrylic paints, glue, toilet paper, and water.
