

BARTELE: Picture "Connectedness" (2023)

€1,600.00

Fostering empathy, compassion and understanding for others connects us across age, gender, nationality and continents. Our connections through relationships, experiences and cultures show that we share basic needs such as love and acceptance. Travel gives us insights into foreign lifestyles and cultures, teaches us to appreciate differences and overcome prejudices. These experiences broaden our perspectives, make us more tolerant and teach us humility. They encourage us to question our own prejudices and live more consciously. By learning to put ourselves in the shoes of others, empathy and compassion grow. Loving connections and appreciative cooperation lead to sustainable solutions to challenges.
