

Sabine Schramm: Picture "North Sea dunes & sea (#230919)" (2023)

I look out over the endless expanse of the North Sea. Gently curving dunes that look like guardians of the coast. I am standing high up on the crest of the gently curving dunes, which look like guardians of the coast. The dune grass caresses my feet and sways in the gentle sea breeze. A bright sunny day bathes the scenery in a warm light that makes every single grain of sand glisten. Clouds pile up in the sky above the horizon. The view of the calm sea and the expansive beach makes my thoughts fly away. Up here, surrounded by the pure beauty of nature, I can take a deep breath and enjoy the moment in its incomparable tranquillity.

Product link: <https://www.artsolitaire.arsmundi.de/en/sabine-schramm-picture-north-sea-dunes-sea-230919-2023-a1000114868/>