

Heike Schumann:

Picture "The art of sailing: values and virtuosity at the turning mark" (2024)

€2,200.00

The work "Sailing Art: Values and Virtuosity at the Turning Mark" in the style of contemporary art is characterized by its unique approach and the use of high-quality materials. The artist personally sourced the canvas and carefully primed it three times to create an optimal base for painting. This sail painting was created using only high-quality acrylic paints. The painting depicts a lively regatta scene at the turning mark, with various fabric collages, the incorporated sailcloth and the combination of printed and painted elements creating a dynamic and richly textured surface. The color scheme in various shades of blue, in contrast to the energetic red sails, gives the work an intense visual tension. The work is a unique piece on canvas, painted with high-quality acrylic paints and signed by the artist.
