

Michael Rofka: Picture "Staircase (2)" (2012)

€4,000.00

This is another color field painting where the paint was applied in many layers. The three red stripes get a little lighter towards the top. Red is closest to the artist as a color. Here it is generously staged. At the same time it is not gestural expressive but radiates in its own powerful intensity. Thus, the image has an intense, warm and calm atmosphere. The image does not need a frame and can be hung directly.
