

Ute Meyer: Picture "Baltic Sea / Ærø / Oldemark" (2023)

This picture was taken on the Danish island of Ærø on a sunny day. Ute Meyer sat on the beach and has captured the mood of a few hours picturesque. In the foreground, in addition to yellow flowers are large stones in different shades of ocher - and gray. On the left side of the picture, the sand-colored cliff is covered with green beach grass. The Baltic Sea shimmers blue - turquoise. An eye-catcher is a small red flag marking a fish trap. The sky is summery pale blue. The oil paint is applied very pastos with brushes. This gives the structures of the vegetation and water a plastic effect. The picture carrier is made of wood. A steel cable provides a secure suspension. The signature is on the front.
