

Anne Samson: Picture "Small beauty" (2022)

€800.00

That's how pretty this still life is! Many small pink flowers, resembling roses, are loosely distributed over the entire square picture surface and appear embedded in lush leaves in turquoise and blue and light green. The work is indebted to expressionism, as the forms are reduced to the essentials and the colors are intense and bright. The painting has a strong impact, it is not restrained but claims attention for itself.
