

Uwe Fehrmann: Picture "Quo vadis? No. 1, Gorilla" (2023)

This painting is one of a series of paintings that focus on endangered species. Gorillas exist only in Africa. Distinguished are two species of gorillas, the Western and the Eastern Gorilla.... There is good news about the mountain gorilla: it is the only gorilla species whose numbers have increased slightly in recent years, but at least - thanks to intensive conservation efforts and anti-poaching work.
