

Ute Meyer: Picture "At the edge of the forest" (2023)

€600.00

This watercolor was created in the spring on a windy afternoon at the edge of a forest. The painter thrilled the vivid blue sky with the moving white clouds. The fresh, bright spring green contrasts with the dark brown trunks of the trees. The sky is reflected in a puddle, connecting heaven and earth. The watercolor was painted expressively and spontaneously with dynamic brushstrokes and gives the impression of wind and sun. It was painted on handmade paper (300gr) by Centenaire and fixed on a 60x80 gray mount cardboard. The signature is in front .
