

Marit Symalla: Picture "On the Move" (2024)

€640.00

* Animal painting as a mirror of the soul! Far too often we are distracted by false feelings and other opinions. We do not look at ourselves. Through my animal portraits I transfer these feelings and moments onto the canvas. Animals live in the moment, they are not false or fake, that's why they are a perfect mediator for these moments and feelings for me. To the artwork: The background is done with coffee and charcoal pencils and gradually several overlapping layers were added. The deep black is the last layer of acrylic paint and dominates the canvas together with the turquoise. The hare sketches are partly outlined with black acrylic paint, only one of the hares is painted realistically in places, the upper part was only applied with thinned paint. Because the moment is quickly over.
