

Stanko: Picture "Rothko's scar II" (2021)

€2,950.00

The colors dark red & turquoise, with hints of orange and magenta were the starting point for this homage to Mark Rothko, the grand master of color field painting. Malereisch the image was completed after I could integrate the "scar" in the red field - see detail photos. The vertical cut is a reference to the "scars" that artistic models sometimes leave in us. If they are transformed then, however, then lead to powerful works. After much hesitation, I have decided to also present this color field, which glows mysteriously and allows the meditative color space for immersion.
