

Kirsten Treis: Picture "Spring at the zoo" (2010)

€1,200.00

When the children were small, Cologne Zoo was a popular destination for us. This time we were lucky - apparently the pelicans were being fed. We had the feeling that there was suddenly more food under the water because the animals started to fish. The occasion for this picture series was also a beautiful magnolia that was in bloom at the edge of the water and whose colours harmonized wonderfully with the pelicans, the water and the reflections. The pelicans present themselves elegantly. Signed and dated.
