

Peter Nottrott: Picture "Landscape: Evening Mood XL 6" (2022)

Expressive painting on which it seems as if the warm light of dawn shines. The course of the river connects the foreground and background, on the distant horizon the sun is about to set behind the chain of hills. Atmospheric composition in orange, yellow, white, blue, green and brown-black shades. The individual mixed technique provides liveliness and energy, so that the painting invites the inclined viewer to a mental trip beyond the everyday. During some beautiful walks in nature I love to collect inspiration for images like this and implement as an abstracted painting.
