

Nicole Leidenfrost: Picture "Stock market bull" (2020)

€1,700.00

The painting presents a majestic bull, depicted in powerful and dynamic lines that emphasize his strength and determination. On a vivid red background, the stock market bull is depicted in a way that symbolizes its power and dominance. Its imposing appearance embodies the strength of the financial market and its volatile nature. Dollar signs are subtly woven into the background of the painting, emphasizing the bull's connection to the world of finance. These symbols fit organically into the overall picture and add an extra dimension to the artwork, highlighting the ambivalence and complexity of the stock market world. The bull's sweeping lines and the highly symbolic dollar signs in the background create a fascinating dynamic and lend the painting an aura of power and economic strength.
