

Michael Rofka: Sculpture "Solar wind" (2021)

€600.00

Also in this small sculpture the artist followed the geometric law of Möbius' loop. If you follow the surface, you can reach any point without jumping over the edge. But the law gives the sculptor a lot of creative freedom and he created a dynamic slender variant in the middle of this group of works. The wood is of an ash tree with its wonderful grain. In ancient natural philosophies it is the tree of the sun. The wood is sanded and waxed. The sculpture is mounted on a block of marble with a brass spacer. The masses are total so including the base.
