

Ilona Schmidt: Sculpture "Abstract resonance" (2024)

€1,500.00

This clay sculpture presents an abstracted head that stands out due to its simple form and lack of detailed facial modeling. Artfully arranged rings are attached to one side of the head, acting as overlays and giving the work a dynamic texture. These rings are treated with a rust patina that not only creates visual depth, but also symbolizes a connection to nature and transience. The combination of the surface of the head and the rough, patinated rings creates an exciting contrast. The head is firmly fixed on a metal stand, the surface of the head was treated with cold patina after firing.
