

Karin Döring: Picture "LICHTGESTALT XXVII [27]" (2024)

The XXVII work in the LICHTGESTALT series shows the asana Padmasana, also known as the lotus position. This work from the LICHTGESTALT series radiates an impressive energy that symbolizes light, hope and vitality. Inspired by the asana Padmasana, also known as the "lotus position", it shows the powerful elegance of a yogic posture. In this LICHTGESTALT yoga art, I have used various relief structure granules to give the depiction a special depth and dynamism. The background is in dark purple, blue and black. The shimmering gilding with 24-carat gold leaf emphasizes the combination of light and movement. The organic, relief-like texture invites you to experience and touch the work not only visually, but also emotionally.
