

Heinz Stoewer: Picture "Moss covered" (2023)

€1,400.00

If you walk through the forest with your eyes open, you will discover many interesting things along the way. And this is especially true of natural areas that have a good microclimate, because only there do mosses and lichens thrive optimally. A rock covered in mosses, lichens and ice was the inspiration for this abstract painting, which captures the colors and shapes of nature and becomes something completely different through the painterly transformation. The colors of the moss, lichen and ice stand in stark contrast to the dark, varied surfaces of the rock. The picture is signed and dated 2004/2023 on the back, as painterly changes were made in 2023.
