

Michael Krähmer: Picture "Symmetrical landscape" (1984)

€4,300.00

At first glance, an almost photo-realistically painted mountain lake, as you know it from the Alps. On closer inspection, however, you realize that something is wrong here, that this landscape can't exist like this: It is completely symmetrical! Each contour of the rocks and the mountains on the left side corresponds to the shape of the landscape on the right side. Thus, beyond the beauty of the mountain lake, the picture holds an optical surprise for the viewer.
