

Heinz Stoewer: Picture "patch #2" (2019)

€1,400.00

In this work, the artist has perfectly translated his motto: "My world is full of color" into a very powerful abstract oil painting in shades of red. Red stands for love, energy, eroticism and passion and this picture conveys all of this. In the center is a large red patch with various shades of red interspersed with shades of green, yellow and white. The painterly execution of these cloud-like structures develops its own dynamic and makes the painting appear to move from within. One could think of a boiling pot filled with red paint that overflows towards the outer areas. In pleasant contrast to this is the very calm background in a beige tone. This abstract painting is very dominant and requires sufficient hanging space to achieve the best effect.
