Michael Rofka:
Sculpture "Conversation with the birch tree" (2017)

€2,300.00

This graceful wooden sculpture made of birch wood has a complex organic structure. Working in the fine birch wood was a 'conversation' with the material, or rather with the birch, and resulted in a unique form. She once took part in an exhibition in a gallery in Riga. Unfortunately, something broke during transportation. However, it has been repaired and the shape has its original perfection. The wood is oiled and the sculpture is mounted on a steel plate. On request, this can also be a stone slab.
