

Eva Recordon: Picture "liberté 484" (2023)

the work "liberté" from the series "liberté d'expression" is intended to represent freedom in art as a form of artistic expression. Held in eggplant red tones, framed by beige and salmon pastel shades, drawing elements of chalk and graphite ornaments refine the harmonious composition and stand in exciting contrast to the color surfaces. The work is finished with a final varnish with UV protection and is signed and dated on the back and can be hung directly without further framing.
