

Stanko: Picture "Purple Pink Magenta" (2023)

€2,950.00

We all need warmth. And if winter lasts too long, these are the colors that delight the heart in winter, magenta, purple, pink, in a very concentrated form. As with many of my other meditation images, a picture meditation lends itself to when it has become too noisy and hectic outside. Sit down, immerse yourself, think nothing and just enjoy. If you hold out long enough, you will be rewarded with an afterimage in the complementary color, which imperceptibly overlays the color field and enables a new perception. Because that's what it's all about: our own perception, which we learn to trust by practicing looking without reservation.
