Picture "Zarah (Leander) I - controversial" (2022)

€2,800.00

Zarah Leander conquered the hearts of cinema audiences in the 1930s and 1940s. She thrilled her fans with songs such as "Kann denn Liebe Sünde sein? The Swedish singer with the deep voice was both revered and reviled as a Nazi idol. The mixed-media work "Zarah - controversial" symbolically depicts this polarizing life path. In this work, I used acrylic paint, graphite, oil pastels, tissue paper and sculptural masses. Notes from one of Zarah Leander's songs have been worked into her hand. The picture has structure due to the plastic materials and tissue paper used.
