

Ute Bivona: Picture "On a friendly Sunday morning" (2023)

On a friendly Sunday morning, the artist sat on her balcony . There were only flowers, greenery, sky, sun, birdsong and peace - pure happiness! When the city has not yet awakened, no car doors slamming, no background noise, a good cup of tea or cappuccino in hand, listening to the birds, reveling in the colors of the just blooming flowers and feel that this is the best life you live! Do you know it too? Exactly this feeling of happiness, this lightness and being one with everything and being completely with yourself, the artist wanted to pass on with this fresh and colorful work. ATTENTION - this work is not stretched!
