

Heinz Stoewer: Picture "Ocotillo in front of yellow wall" (2009)

€580.00

The work shows a detailed view of an ocotillo cactus in front of a bright yellow painted wall and is part of the artist's series of works thematizing Palm Springs in the Californian desert. The cactus looks like a modern sculpture against the yellow background of the wall and the dry branches appear almost surreal. The painter's fascination with these cacti, which have adapted to the hostile nature of the desert and bear small green leaves and large fiery red flowers after rain in winter, is palpable. A rather calm, quiet picture despite the bright yellow of the wall. It is dated and signed on the back!
