

Sibylle Bross: Picture "Pool" (2022)

A pond has formed between the trees in the forest. The water reflects the trees and the blue of the sky. The forest is very dense at this point. Occasionally the sun shines through. In the distance you can see a clearing. There the image becomes blurred and forms depth. Warm earth tones play with cool blue. Playfully, out of the experiment with the material oil paint, the artist forms this landscape. For her, the picture is completed when she feels that she can climb over the roots of the trees.
