Ilona Schmidt:
Picture "Start again" (2021)

€2,900.00

The painting is a combination of graphic elements such as circles, squares and rectangles. The placement of a traffic light on the forehead of the portrait conveys an interesting symbolism. It indicates that decisions and changes of direction play a central role in life. The many lines pointing the way are an invitation to new beginnings and conscious decision making . It invites the viewer to reflect on their own paths and decisions and to have the courage to dare a new beginning. Signed and dated and provided with hooks for immediate hanging.
