

Ute Bivona: Picture "The daydream of a clownfish" (2023)

€8,500.00

A little clownfish swimming around all alone in the big wide world of the sea, defenseless and afraid. What could he possibly wish for? Perhaps a whole school of colorful fish that swim with him and in which he himself no longer stands out and finds protection. A shoal, a family, cavorting in the round dance of the waves and swimming towards the bright light of the sun, risking a brief and shy glance above water and then quickly diving back into the colorful and iridescent stream of brothers and sisters and feeling at home. What a firework of colors! So exciting and yet soothing! The bright colors of the fish and the soothing blues and greens of the sea complement each other beautifully and you can directly follow the movement to the brilliant sunlight and would love to snorkel behind. Immerse yourself in a new work of art by the artist and discover new worlds!
