Anja Struck:
Picture "blown through" (2022)

The viewer sees a couple. They are walking along the sea shore. Cap and jackets indicate that the temperature is rather cold. Also the color choice of a cool blue for the sea and a cool yellow for the beach underline this impression. The gaze of the two people goes away from the viewer in the direction of the waves. The viewer automatically follows this gaze towards the horizon, which lies outside the picture. He is taken into the peace of this picture. Signature on the reverse.
