

Karin Döring: Picture "ORDERLY CHAOS" (2024)

I love colors and I love order. Sometimes it's difficult to reconcile the two in a painting. But today I managed to bring order to the chaos and arrange the colors in such a way that they accept and even like each other in the neighborhood and complement each other wonderfully: Orderly chaos. This abstract artwork is a vivid expression of my passion for color and my quest for balance. The vibrant colors - from bold reds and deep blues to bright greens and yellows and soft purples - blend together in a dynamic composition that exudes both energy and calm. Each layer of color tells its own story and invites you to discover the multi-layered emotions and thoughts behind each brushstroke. "Ordered Chaos" is an invitation to celebrate the unpredictable beauty of life.
