€3,200.00

The show is over, the body is still shaking with exertion. Was it enough? Self-doubt is in the air, having met the requirements. The stage is empty, the applause has died down, the tension has faded. And now the calmness overwhelms you, your thoughts wander once again to the big performance and the realization that you have once again withstood the pressure, guided by your love for what the world means to you.
