

su sea: Picture "The bather XII - the longing is blue" (2024)

The "bathing women" series deals with the theme of "femininity, self-confidence, self-esteem". At first glance, the viewer often only realizes the colourfully depicted bathing scene. On closer inspection, however, a small detail reveals an ecological theme, a reference to a political or social issue of current affairs or a personal focus that is currently the focus of my reflection. The work "the longing is blue" stands for the very deep individual longings and desires, expressed here in the following poem: The longing is blue - the encounter with the infinite horizon. Again by the sea. Much time has passed, it is as it was, Seagulls and surf, wave after wave connects me with the rhythm of the sea. The longing is blue... I created this mixed-media work with acrylic paints, tissue paper and graphite.
