

Mark Hellbusch: Picture "Claim 11 - high-quality painting" (2019)

€790.00

The seemingly chaotic application of paint creates an "organic" field that is "staked out" by the size of the picture. It was painted using a mixed technique consisting of acrylic, water-mixable oil paint and varnish. However, the term "painted" does not quite apply to this technique. The colors were rather thrown and sprayed. This is experimental painting, which can quickly lead to success with the right throwing technique and rotation of the painting machine. This unusual approach produces originals that are both inexpensive and high-quality. Bright colors mix in a complex way and create a perceptible three-dimensionality through their different lengths. The viewer's gaze repeatedly lingers on the pattern-free structures, stimulating the viewer in an unusual, abstract way.

Product link: <https://www.artsolitaire.arsmundi.de/en/mark-hellbusch-picture-claim-11-high-quality-painting-2019-a1000116036/>