

Karin Mihm: Picture "Hector the goldfinch" (2024)

€600.00

A goldfinch on the branch of a tree. Drawn with a loose line and then watercolored with vivid colors. The first time I saw a goldfinch in the park, I was surprised at how beautifully colorful this bird is. And then one day a goldfinch sat on the antenna of our house and sang. Its song sounds like an excited, happy chirping. "A bit hectic, that bird", we thought, and that's why we called him Hector. Material: Waterproof ink and the finest artist's watercolors on age-resistant, natural white watercolor paper.
