

Corinna Rosteck: Picture "In the Sky" (2024)

€2,450.00

The photographs follow the flow of movement, the fluid, unsteady and ephemeral and reflect their movements on water surfaces, in clouds and air currents. They lurk on aesthetic forces that combine dance and photography. Weightlessness, materiality, radiant surfaces and light are the characteristics of the works in the Inthesky series; swimmers rise into the air and the dancers sink into the water. The metallic surface, which at first glance appears cool and closed, begins to open up on closer inspection. What is depicted seems to change as we pass by, as we approach and step aside, almost as if it were responding to us and our movements.
