Ilona Schmidt:
Sculpture "Waiting II" (2023)

€750.00

The sculpture titled "Waiting" shows a figure sitting on a stone-like object shaped like a snail. This design is meant to symbolize the long wait. The waiting woman sits in a pensive posture and seems to be patiently waiting for something or someone. The choice of the snail-shaped stone adds symbolism to the sculpture, as snails are known for their slow movement. The sculpture conveys an atmosphere of expectation and trust, while symbolizing the challenges and patience that come with waiting. It was modeled from coarse clay, fired and after firing finished with cold paint patina.
