

Ilona Schmidt: Picture "Flaming soul" (2025)

€1,200.00

In an explosive dance of red, black and white, "Flaming Soul" unfolds as an expression of untamed emotions. The dynamic brushstrokes blaze across the canvas like flames, while the diffuse play of light and shadow hints at a hidden presence - a face that seems to dissolve between the layers of paint. The intense red stands for burning passion, unstoppable energy and the power of inner feelings, while the deep black sets contrasts, creates depth and is reminiscent of the shadows of the soul. The white and blue accents look like sparks that light up in the midst of the fire, as a sign of hope and renewal. The portrait is not static - it seems to be moving, breathing, struggling. It is a picture of a restless spirit, a soul that is on fire, yet does not fade away, but draws new strength from its intensity.
