

Toni Nohe: Picture "The festival" (2023)

"Das Fest" shines in vibrant colors, with the dominant red casting a warm light. The large-format painting conveys a cheerful and vital atmosphere, captured in a moment of celebration. The composition reminds us that life itself is a celebration. The message is clear: amidst the diversity of existence, we should embrace the present moment with a positive attitude, surrounded by loved ones. The format is rarely found on the market, simply large, present, reassuring with an enormous positive aura.
