

Jörg Herz: Sculpture "Ferryman in gold plated boat (24 carat)" (2023)

€2,980.00

The sculpture represents a ferryman who will accompany us to death. The ferryman's boat is made of gold to illustrate that material possessions cannot accompany us into the afterlife. We cannot take anything with us when we die. Item. We should strive to be positive and generous people and create meaningful experiences and memories for those who will remember us when we are gone. The sculpture encourages us to live in the present and make the most of the time we have, rather than chasing after material possessions that we will eventually leave behind. Figure approx. 60 cm high / with base 70 cm high /real gold leaf
