€850.00

In my artwork, I fuse abstract forms and expressionist energy. Every brushstroke with acrylic, every pencil and crayon mark is a reflection of my inner emotions. The geometric patterns offer a visual symphony that invites you to think beyond the familiar and discover new perspectives. In your home, this painting will create a vibrant atmosphere and encourage viewers to pause and reflect. My creative process is often characterized by intuition and spontaneity. I let my inner world guide me and try out different techniques. I often start with an abstract sketch and then work in layers of color to create depth and texture. It's a dance between control and letting go, where I always incorporate surprising elements into my work. Original (unique), acrylic on Aludibond (aluminum plastic panel), shipping - packed in a wooden box
